Change the traditional methods and establish the new culture mode of the center culture. Under the traditional mode, ours are using the way of expressing, indoctrination which is often used in the our nation. It is difficult for people to learn in this way ot feel culture actively. To improve people initiative in learning a new culture to change the traditional methods and discard them. centered mode is based on values of nation. The center's culture tries to enrich activities and prepare various courses. The task is to enrich learning culture and activities to improve adapting the new ones. It is am important way to develop an initiative is to enable to learning from old culture which is passive.

3.3 The culture system will not be of great significance

Similarly, it is not advisable to evaluate the higher nation education system by evaluating the criteria of the economic system. Therefore, according to the requirements of different disciplines and different levels of culture, we must establish a scientific culture organization. According to the subject characteristics, aptitude and research interests of different people, and in accordance with the requirements of organizational goals, different standards should be implemented. Appraisal methods should not be all-inclusive. Apart from giving full play to the positive role of people in evaluation, nation should be appointed, promoted and appointed. Peer evaluation, especially off-campus peer evaluation, should play a very important role in the decision of term and the application of scientific research funds. Then the performance and post-related treatment and performance corresponding, so that talent selection, promotion and research funding is based on the acquisition of individual culture. On the basis of ability, we can bring up a kind of backward, pressure, dynamic and dynamic situation, stabilize and bring into playing the real culture cultivation.

The great role of talents ensures the good operation of university system and the formation of competitive advantages.
